Foreword

AS these brief words are penned, there arises in the mind of the author the thought that before the close of another year the class of 1935 will have left forever, as students, the halls of Thomas Jefferson High School. For all of us the unfathomable future beckons our youthful ambition with an encouraging hand. In the course of the years some of us will have scaled the heights of political, economic, and social success, but for the majority life will "creep in this petty pace from day to day" as we seek the simple pleasures and necessities of a commonplace existence.

Yet, regardless of our future station, we shall always be able to look back to Thomas Jefferson, our Alma Mater, as the scene of much earnest study, good sportsmanship, joyous frivolity, and congenial companionship. Though perchance separated by vast continents and oceans, the members of the class of 1935 will ever be united in their common memories.

That is the purpose of the 1935 Monticello. May pictures and print, humor and legend join all of us, scattered by the vicissitudes of life, so that in the words of "Auld Lang Syne" we may take care lest "auld acquaintance be forgot and never brought to mind".

The Monticello for 1935

IS RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED TO

Mrs. G. Rey Bennett

Senior class sponsor since 1932, whose mature experience complemented with a quiet yet genial personality, has like a guiding light, led us onward and upward.

CHARLES SAMUEL WRIGHT
President

THE CLASS of '35 owes much of its success to its capable president, Charles Wright. As captain of the '34-'35 basketball team, he was the high scorer of the team for the season. This boy also saw service on the junior and varsity quintets in previous years. Since 1933 Wright's play at third base has been the mainstay of the baseball squad, and he displayed his qualities of leadership as captain during the last two seasons. He was also a member of the Athletic Association, Monogram Club, Senior Class, and Student Council.

Senior Class History

WITH Northside and Binford Junior High Schools as our former Alma Maters, we, the present seniors of Thomas Jefferson, organized our class in the fall of 1932 while still in our sophomore year. Thus we hold the honor of having founded the first sophomore class in the history of the school. On November 18 we selected from a group of seven faculty members nominated by representatives from 16 homerooms, Miss Mozelle Powell (now Mrs. G. Rey Bennett) as our sponsor.

Three days later sirens and bells broke the quiet of the lonely upper reaches of Monument Avenue. Thomas Jefferson was afire! The blaze was quickly brought under control, and a subsequent investigation revealed that only the roof had been destroyed. The necessity of repairs, however, was responsible for a lengthened Thanksgiving holiday.

Late in December the first officers of the class of '35 were chosen. They were Wilfred Lawless, president; Ann Dickerson, vice-president; Wyatt Carneal, secretary; Jimmie Chapin, treasurer; and Joe Frank, reporter. During the next few months we centered our attention on an extensive intra-class basketball tournament.

In the early part of March, 1933, the storm clouds of a double crisis began to scatter. The Jeffersonian by a "pay-as-you-read" plan was saved from the spectre of discontinued publication—over 500 subscriptions were secured on the last day set by an ultimatum issued to the school! Four days later, during the darkest days of the depression, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was inaugurated as President of the United States—an event which brought hope of better days to us along with the rest of the nation.

When we returned to Thomas Jefferson in September, 1933, as juniors, the total enrollment of the school had grown to approximately 1400. At this time Jesse H. Binford succeeded the beloved Albert H. Hill as Superintendent of the Richmond Public Schools. The next important event was the selection of our class officers for the 1933-1934 session. They were Lavinia Winston, president; Wilfred Lawless, vice-president; Hannah Taylor, secretary; Jimmie Chapin, treasurer; and Joe Frank, reporter. Soon afterwards we had the good fortune to acquire as our class mascot, Nancy Elizabeth Bloxsom, "Spud's" newly arrived "Little Potato".

Late in February, 1934, Thomas Jefferson's dark horse quintet, which had used victories over Saint Christopher's and Benedictine to climb from third place, clinched its first major sport championship by defeating our traditional enemy, John Marshall, 26-24, to win the Harris-Brenaman Basketball Trophy.

The next term found us as seniors, beginning our last year at Thomas Jefferson and basking in the spotlight of importance. Events that had previously meant little to us now took on a new significance. We were proud to see The Jeffersonian expand in size to a six-column paper which won most favorable comment at the first meeting of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association in which it was ever represented. We felt, moreover, that the election of such outstanding students as Charles Wright, president; Anne Dickerson, vice-president; Hannah Taylor, secretary; Jimmie Chapin, treasurer; and Mark Troxell, reporter, for our final officers, had been a choice which rendered our class organization added prestige.

Changes were evolved in 1935 in the administration of the school which many of us wished had come sooner but which we were glad to help make a success. First, examinations were changed from two-hour tests, counting a half of a pupil's yearly mark, to sixty-minute tests, counting only 25% of the term's average. Under this system it is hoped that students will improve the quality of their daily work rather than rely on "cramming" for exams to prevent failure. Next, student government was established at Thomas Jefferson, extending its influence into practically every branch of school activity. Honor study halls were installed with pupils as chairmen presiding over trusted students. The student government undertook the regulation of the cafeteria and the preservation of order in the halls. Finally, the class of '35 presented in April its play, "The Patsy", which not only maintained the tradition of an annual dramatic entertainment but also helped in backing the enlarged Monticello.

As our years of study at Thomas Jefferson come to an end, we, the members of the senior class, recall fondly the active part we have taken in contributing to the growth of our school. Each of us feels that he has done his part in upholding the prestige and the traditions of the Red and White and feels just as sure that future Tee-jayites will carry on with the same fidelity in upholding the honor of Thomas Jefferson.

Adieu
TO THE
Crimson and White

Like wingèd birds in rapid flight
The past few years have flown;
Like tender echoes we'll recall
The happy days we've known.

Each day we've spent might represent
A full and vivid page,
Round in our book of life and dreams
That grows with rip'ning age.

When we have left these days behind
For new works and designs,
We'll 'oft return and 'ope the book
To read between the lines.

And now that we must bid adieu
On this commencement night,
Our hearts are sorely grieved to leave
The crimson and the white.

THE SESSION of 1934-'35 witnessed the beginning of a form of student participation in school government at Thomas Jefferson High School. Under the guidance of a faculty committee, a large group of interested students met in October to study the plans and accomplishments of student governments in many high schools throughout the United States, and to consider the advisability of initiating such a project in Thomas Jefferson.

This group decided to undertake the establishment of honor study halls as a first test of the ability of the students to govern themselves and appointed a publicity committee, under the leadership of Lucille Bickers, to "sell the idea" to the student body. This committee did an excellent piece of work, both through the columns of The Jeffersonian and by talks made in the home rooms, in assemblies, and in study halls. Early in December the first honor study halls were established with Mary Davenport as chairman of the committee. Thus the first mile stone in student government had been passed! So great was the popularity of this venture that the applications exceeded the available space in February, at which time the number of study halls was doubled in number, accommodating approximately four hundred students daily.

The second step made by the acting student council was the formation of a reception committee with Robert Browning as chairman. This committee stationed two of its members in the entrance hall of the building each period of the day to welcome and direct visitors. The boys on this committee acted as ushers for the Christmas assembly and for the concert given by the Music Department, thus establishing themselves as the official ushers for all school affairs.

In February a committee was formed with Rex Allyn as chairman which began to draw up plans for student regulation of the cafeteria. The three subcommittees, publicity under Jack Brent, organization under Rosa Ellis, and procedure under Mac Arenstein immediately started to "put over" the project. As a step toward better coordination throughout the school, each home room at this time appointed a representative to form an acting council. These pupils met with the cafeteria committee in order to convey their plans to the home rooms and to register home room opinions. The students took over the supervision of the cafeteria on March 25, 1935.

The last project of the year was the formation of a general plan of organization for the entire school followed by the election of school student government officers.

May student participation in Thomas Jefferson go on to bigger and better things!

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB, organized in the session of 1930-'31, has rapidly progressed under the supervision of its sponsor, Mrs. Tyler.

Large business firms of the city have very graciously furnished speakers once a month for the club's benefit during the 1934-'35 session. These speakers are known throughout Richmond as the most outstanding business men of the city.

A write-up of the club's work published in "The Business World," a commercial magazine published in New York, has obtained for the club wide recognition.

In October, '34, a commercial alumni club was organized. It is advancing rapidly under the leadership of its sponsor, Mrs. Tyler, and "Dick" Garber, a '33 graduate. This group dines once every three months at some noted Richmond eating-house. All Commercial Club graduates are eligible for membership.

REAL SATISFACTION may be gained from the study of a foreign language, such as Spanish, with its many cultural and commercial advantages.

With the fall of the Spanish Armada, the land of Don Quixote took a "back seat" among the nations of the earth, but the rise of South America in world economic importance and the recent developments in Spanish political history have made the study of this language worth while. The art and literature of Spain also make a reading knowledge of Spanish of cultural value to the student.

THE SCIENCE CLUB, like Thomas Jefferson High School itself, is passing its fifth birthday. It is, however, an active, growing, and—in spots—a precocious youth. The aim of the club has been to offer the students of the school supplementary work in that most progressive subject in the curriculum—science.

The activities during the past year extended in three directions. First, astronomy was discussed by the members and several interesting talks were presented. Next, a course in analytical chemistry was conducted which proved most beneficial to the members who indulged in this project. Finally, field trips were taken to the larger industrial plants around Richmond.

PLAYING its first season under Coach Homer Baker, Thomas Jefferson's football team finished the 1934 campaign with a record of two victories, seven defeats, and one tie. Two Jeffs received mention for their stellar performances. "Mush" Vitsky was chosen all-state guard on a team picked by Class "A" high school coaches, while Buddy Lawless was placed unanimously at end on the all-city prep team. The defensive work of Captain Sam Dunn at center and the punting of Alex Moore were the other individual highlights. The record of the games played follows:

T. J., 13; Morrison, 0—Thomas Jefferson's varsity gridders opened their 1934 campaign with a smashing 13-0 triumph over Morrison High. Shirl Faircloth toted the ball over in the initial quarter for the Jeffs' first six-pointer, after Carneal's line buck placed the oval on the one-foot mark. In the last period Carneal plowed his way through center from the five-yard line for the second touchdown. Lawless converted from placement for the extra point.

T. J., 6; Glass High, 7—In a game played in a sea of mud at Lynchburg, Glass High eked out a 7-6 victory over the Presidents. The 1933 Class "A" champions scored first, when Berry crossed the zero stripe and converted. After the half Church took a beautiful 25-yard pass from Lawless for the Jeffs' touchdown. The try for point failed. Late in the closing period the Belt Liners advanced to the Glass eight-yard line but could not put the ball over.

T. J., 0; St. Christopher's, 14—The Crimson and White team dropped its first city championship tilt, October 12, to St. Christopher's. Line plunges by Russ Beattie and Dan Grinnan scored the Saints' touchdowns while Harris kicked both extra points. A 30-yard dash by Lawless was the best Jeff offensive threat. With any interference at all he would have easily scored, but a desperate tackle by Jack Beattie stopped him. Faircloth did some beautiful punting, having only one under 50 yards all day.

T. J., 0; Hampton, 25—The following Friday Thomas Jefferson lost a very uneven game at Hampton, 25-0. The Jeffs were never within scoring distance as their opponents took advantage of the breaks to win. Coach Baker's charges d'd manage, however, to make five first downs during the course of the contest.

T. J., 0; Petersburg, 33—Meeting Petersburg High School, the Belt Liners, with a great number of their regulars on the sidelines, proved no match for Coach Roland Day's charges. The Crimson Wave's perfection in fundamentals and its tricky laterals from punt and short punt formations were too much for the Jeffs to handle. The President backs gained more ground against the Cockaders, however, than any other team facing them during the 1935 season.

T. J., 6; McGuire's, 7—Thomas Jefferson lost the most heartbreaking game of its schedule to McGuire's, November 2. On the second play of the day Captain Leroy Johnson of the Macks intercepted a double-reverse forward pass by Alex Moore and dashed 40 yards to score. Lennie Jacobs, former Jeff athlete then playing for McGuire's, dropkicked the extra point. The Bakerites tallied when Layne took Faircloth's pass on the Byrd Parker's goal line. The try for point failed. Faircloth's punting was again of high order.

Mac Burhman, John Marshall's all-city fullback, is being stopped by Lawless (No. 22), Vitsky (No. 17), and Dunn, after cracking the Thomas Jefferson line for a gain of two yards. Carneal (No. 15) with Sharp just in front of him can be seen at the left, coming up to aid in stopping the play.

T. J., 6; Lane, 12—A beautiful display of reverses and forward passes put on by Thomas Jefferson failed by one touchdown to defeat Lane High, after the latter had scored twice early in the game. A 40-yard pass, Moore to Lawless, from a double-reverse accounted for the locals' tally. The Jeffs twice advanced to Lane's three-yard line but could not score. Sam Dunn was the outstanding defensive player on the field.

T. J., 6; Benedictine, 0—Wyatt Carneal took a long aerial from Buddie Lawless on the same double-reverse pass play which gained so much ground all season and, aided by a perfect block on the part of Tommy Hall, scored standing up to defeat Benedictine. The Jeffs just missed another touchdown, when Lawless dropped a pass in the end zone. An attempted field goal by Tommy Green, President guard, was inches outside the uprights, and the Belt Liners were forced to be content with a 6-0 victory.

T. J., 0; John Marshall, 0—Although unable to score themselves, Thomas Jefferson's gridders effectively stopped all John Marshall's plays to see this game end in a scoreless tie. A slippery field made speed and passing, the Jeffs' main threats, useless weapons. Captain Sam Dunn and Lawless were the defensive stars. Alex Moore's punting was beautiful, the lanky end averaging 36.9 yards per try, including one which bounced backwards for a net loss of seven yards. The Belt Liners played the entire game with only one substitute who went in for two minutes.

T. J., 0; Newport News, 19—Thomas Jefferson closed its season on Thanksgiving, losing to Newport News, 19-0. The field was so muddy the Jeffs could not get their tricky plays working, and a dry day might easily have seen a reversed score. Alex Moore's kicking was the outstanding feature of the game. At one time he punted the water-soaked ball 65 yards in the air plus ten yards roll for a total of 75 yards from the line of scrimmage. Carneal's 67-yard return of a kickoff was the other Jeff highlight in an otherwise dull game.

Boys' Varsity Basketball Team

ALTHOUGH city champions in 1934, Thomas Jefferson's basketball team did not experience such good fortune in the '35 campaign, finishing with a record of eight wins and eleven defeats. Handicapped by the return of only one letterman, Coach "Spud" Bloxsom molded a fighting quint which improved as the season waned and gave promise of a great team next year.

The season's record follows:

T. J.	28;	Westhampton	19	T. J.	26;	Newport News	19
T. J.	9;	South Boston	13	T. J.	31;	Hampton	27

Girls' Varsity Basketball Team

TO TIE with St. Catherine's and Collegiate for the city championship, Thomas Jefferson's girls' varsity sextet, under the skillful coaching of Miss Katherine Davis, battled its way through a difficult season, winning eight games and losing two. The second string girl cagers won the title of Second Team City Champions, completing the most successful season of their history.

The record of varsity games follows:

T. J.	20	St. Joseph's Villa	33	T. J.	18	Collegiate	24
T. J.	26	Pan-American	15	T. J.	25	Petersburg	16

Investment No. 1

Steadily increasing is the chorus of business leaders, jurists, and financiers who consulting wide experience advise young men to make life insurance their first investment

This is wise counsel if for no other reason than that the younger a man is the more insurance he gets for less money The foresighted young man will first capitalize his future earning-power through life insurance. Time enough after this has been done for ventures into speculative fields
